Writing : Topic B

The influence of Teenagers on Family Decision-Making is important in our life. This means teenagers more reliable and more understandable of real life. For example if teenager has his own opinion in his family, he's absolutely more confident than other teenagers in his age. And it because he understand his value in society. It means him more openly between other people, he understand what he really needs in his life, what he wants and et.

The next example is that teenager behaves better in adult society, understand older people and just stays calm in communication. Teenagers, in this situation, understand serious tasks, topics and problems more correctly and easy because of experience. Also it helps to accept their own decision surely without doubt. Although it what they want to do with their life, what college or university they have to choose.

If teenager is important part of Family and his opinion is also value for all family members he will receive a lot of useful stuff while he's living, because everyone in family take his decision into account.

To sum up all article, I want to say that parents should give a part on Family Decision-Making to grow a good person with excellent useful communication and society skills.
